Tutoring Experience

In my 11 years of teaching, I've had the pleasure of working with students across various academic levels, particularly focusing on those preparing for STEP and A-Level Maths. My aim has been to simplify challenging mathematical concepts, making them accessible for students preparing for competitive admissions exams.

Over the years, I've also developed extensive resources tailored to each student's needs, from mock exams to problem-solving exercises. My students have consistently achieved excellent results, securing placements at top UK universities.
